

Performance Response

In the near future you will be executing the performance project which we have discussed and planned over the past few classes. For a lot of you this can be a very adrenaline filled experience, to better help you process what happened I'd like for you to some questions on the back of this sheet. I recommend you answer as soon as you can after the performance I will be collecting them at the end of class.

Questions:

What are you doing for your performance?

What would constitute a successful performance for you?

How do (did) you feel right before it started?

How did you feel when you were doing it?

How do you feel now?

How do you think people will react?

How did everyone react?

Did anything interesting or unexpected happen?

Do you think this was successful and why?
